Learn how any size organization can build a comprehensive strategic plan from the ground up to encompass all your fundraising initiatives, as well as how to get your Board of Directors to embrace and support it. This information-packed program will be presented by veteran development professional Carmel Patrick, Director of Development for Senior Services of Albany. This topic will be a perfect kick-off to Women in Development’s 2007-2008 program year, and will get your development juices flowing to inspire your organization to fundraising success! As always, we encourage you to bring your Board President or Development Chair (at the non-member rate) to learn about this vital tool for your agency’s fiscal solvency.

Carmel Patrick has an impressive history of non-profit management, fundraising, community development, and marketing in both academic and community-based settings. She currently serves as Director of Development for Senior Services of Albany, the largest and oldest senior care provider in the Capital Region of New York State.

Her previous employment includes United Way of Northeastern New York, where she served as both Director of Training and Events, and Director of Volunteer Development. Patrick also served as the first professional Director of Development and Public Relations for the AIDS Council of Northeastern New York. Patrick holds a B.S. in Marketing from New York University and a M.S. in Educational Administration and Policy Studies from SUNY Albany.
